TIPS FOR SUCCESS!

It is very important that students do all their journal activities and submit them in the correct part of their LMS (platform) before moving on to the assessments for that lesson. Journal activities are not optional, they are an essential element of the methodology as they are the activities which help the students learn and prepare them for their Practices, Applies and Projects.

Please read the other tips which are also very useful for improving grades in the November newsletter:

This month's contribution comes from Lucia Concejo Ciudad who attends Colegio Montessori Salamanca.

Thank you for your contribution. You will receive a small prize which I will take with me on my next visit to your school.

If you wish to make a contribution to our LKAHS NEWS please send it to aitor@lkidiomas.com together with a photo of yourself. You will receive a small prize if your contribution is published.

That's all from me this month. Keep up the good work and remember to give your agreed dedication to the program.

Have an excellent and productive February.

ME

My name is Lucia Concejo, I live in Salamanca in Spain and I'm 14 years old.

Dreams and ambitions are one of the more important things that define us. You grow up with an idea, a thought, a possibility of something that you think that in a future can make you happy.

Everybody has one or is trying to find something that gave you the sense of living.

I found mine when I was nine years old. It was September, the beginning of the course, and I was ready to sign up for basketball when I saw that we have a new activity: theater. I had never done something similar to that so I ask to my mum and when I told her about the new activity she said: 'That's for you'. I was excited and happy, I'm always into new experiences. But you can imagine when she told me that if I want to do theater I'll have to leave basketball. I become a rage. I was only nine years old!

Anyway, I left basketball and I went to theater classes in the school. It's one of the decisions I have made that you are not aware that are going to change your life forever. Thanks to theater I can say I'm so bold and outgoing. In a future I will like to go to the New York Academy of cinema. People says that if you fight for your dreams you will make them come true, so that's what I'm trying to do.

Hi, I'm William Colgate, a math and science instructor here at American High School (AHS). I've been a teacher here for several years, and have taught various subjects from Algebra to Chemistry. My degree is in Microbiology, which actually helps with Chemistry courses because when you get to the microscopic level biology becomes applied chemistry. I love teaching and look forward to interacting with my students as often as possible, so please don't be afraid to reach out to me.
